2017 was a turbulent year for the Pokemon TCG and Pokemon Go, with the release of Pocket Monsters: Sun & Moon and Pokemon Go Lite to go along with the rush to catch Groudon, Kyogre, and Palkia with their respective new forms, which is followed by the release of the last new form, Groudon Black & White and Go! It's very possible that this has deterred some from participating in the following year's World Championships, though this is not confirmed. One of the twelve is Jason "jfree" Freeburn. He didn't do a lot in the PTD tournament, but his most notable win was over Duggy Delvin (who had a win over Satoshi Tajiri in a PTD tournament), who had already qualified for the World Championships. During the National Championships, jfree met Satoshi Tajiri, the founder of the Pokemon TCG, who said he was impressed by jfree, and was invited to perform and speak at the Championships.
